The Junior League of High Point Welcomes 2018 - 2019 New Member Class

High Point, NC – September 4, 2018: The Junior League of High Point (JLHP) is pleased to welcome eighteen women into the League this Fall. This New Member Class brings a variety of backgrounds, talents and strengths to the League. "We have an excellent group of women from all over the area. Their enthusiasm and energy are really inspiring", says Donna Cumby, JLHP New Member Class Committee Chair.

In August, these women took part in a kickoff training that provides an opportunity to meet League members and learn about The Association of Junior Leagues International, Inc. and the JLHP. "This year is starting off with such energy and excitement. We have amazingly dynamic women who have chosen to be a part of JLHP. I am looking forward to what these new members will accomplish", says Amy Cooper Cline, JLHP New Member Class Committee Member.

These women will spend time this League year learning about the JLHP and its role in the High Point Community, in addition to leading an initiative that supports the mission of the Junior League. The JLHP is excited and grateful this group of women have chosen to invest their time and talents as members of the League.

"We are thrilled to welcome these women as new members of the Junior League of High Point," says Dr. Sadie Leder Elder, JLHP President. "They join a legacy and sisterhood that has played an important role in shaping our community since 1928. We feel fortunate to have the opportunity to work with these women to hone their leadership skills as they move forward to become the next generation of community and civic leaders."

This New Member Class joins the JLHP at an exciting time as they celebrate 90 years of service in the High Point Community. To recognize this significant milestone, the JLHP will be giving back to the community in a big way by holding a 90-hour Volunteer-a-Thon in November.
